Fastest Planes In The World In Pulitzer Race

MINNEAPOLIS, N. Y., November 23.—Attracted by the promise of new world's flying records, airplane enthusiasts gathered at Mitchell Field here today for the first of the trial events for the Pulitzer trophy race. Thanks giving Day.

Planes rated as the speediest in the world were entered in the preliminary races. Army air service pilots confidently predicted that their pet machine, the six hundred horse power plane which was the entry of the United States in the James Gordon Bennett races at Etampes, France, would set the record of 152 miles attained in France. Lieutenant C. C. Nozley, who went to France as alternate to Captain H. D. Schroeder, was selected as pilot. The air service entry went into the air at Etampes with Captain Schroeder as pilot, but a mechanical defect cut it out of the contest.

Why Teeth Stain You leave a film-coat on them

Most teeth are dimmed more or less by a film. Smokers' teeth often become darkly coated.

That film makes teeth look dingy, and most tooth troubles are now traced to it.

Millions now combat that film in a new, scientific way. This is to offer a test to you, to show the unique results.

You must end film

The film is viscous—you can feel it with your tongue. It clings to teeth, enters crevices and stays.

Ordinary brushing methods leave much of this film intact. So millions find that well-brushed teeth discolor and decay. You must attack film in a better way, else you will suffer from it.

It is the film-coat that discolors, not the teeth. Film is the basis of tartar. It holds food substance which ferments and forms acid. It holds the acid in contact with the teeth to cause decay.

Millions of germs breed in it. They, with tartar, are the chief cause of pyorrhea.

Pepsodent
The New-Day Dentifrice

A scientific film combatant, combined with two other modern requisites. Now advised for daily use by leading dentists everywhere. Supplied by druggists in large tubes.

A Gift

A 10-Day Tube of Pepsodent is sent to all who ask. See coupon.

Efficient ways

Dental science, after painstaking research, has developed effective ways to fight film. The world's highest authorities now approve them, after careful tests.

These ways are combined in a dentifrice called Pepsodent. And leading dentists everywhere now advise its daily use. A ten-day tube is being sent to everyone who asks.

Watch these new effects

One ingredient is pepsin. One multiplies the starch digestant in the saliva to dissolve the starch deposits that cling. One multiplies the alkalinity of the saliva to neutralize mouth acids as they form.

Two factors directly attack the film. One keeps the teeth so highly polished that film cannot easily cling.

Pepsodent has brought a new era in teeth cleaning. It fights the tooth destroyers as was never done before.

Send the coupon for a 10-Day Tube. Note how clean the teeth feel after using. Mark the absence of the slimy film. See how teeth whiten as the film-coat disappears.

You will always brush teeth in this new way when you watch the results for a week. Cut out the coupon now.

Women! Put Natural Color into Your Cheeks. Eat Spinach and Apples and re-inforce them with a little organic iron—quickly helps make rich red blood and revitalizes worn out exhausted nerves.

When the iron goes from the blood the color leaves your cheeks. Your skin takes on a pale, unhealthy appearance, you become more or less nervous and irritable, you tire easily and feel that you lack your old-time strength and endurance. There can be no strong, healthy, happy colored woman without plenty of iron in her blood. The chlorine by itself is necessary from starvation of the blood—of the modern woman is probably due largely to the food she eats. AF's Lovely Now, Goose Hangs High

For First Time in 20 Years Mrs. Rettig Now Sleeps.

After 20 long years I had been troubled with insomnia, just rolling and tossing all night long. To be sure I got a little rest, but my sleep was all broken up. I would not doze off into slumber and then wake up all of a sudden, every nerve in my body jerking and twitching. Says Mrs. John C. Rettig, 635 South Eighth Street, Louisville, Ky.: "I was so continually nervous that I couldn't sit down to my meals with ease. I ate but little and my stomach was all out of order. I doctored and doctored and took all kinds of medicines, but nothing helped me until I recently began using Herb Sap. I just believe in Herb Sap and always have, and although I am not surprised that Herb Sap brought back my health, I must say I am indeed grateful. It is really remarkable, though, how much benefit I obtained from this delightful medicine. I now sleep sound and eat heartily. I have recently bought many bottles of Herb Sap for my friends who are likewise suffering from insomnia. It is a really wonderful benefit in building up their systems and regaining their health. I do hope every sickly person will take Herb Sap."

Herb Sap is now dispensed here in Portsmouth at the Fisher & Stetson Pharmacy and all other reliable drug stores. Just ask for Herb Sap if you are in its kind and it will build you up as it did Mrs. Rettig. Your favorite druggist can get it for you if he hasn't it. —Adv.

Shorty drops in on New York!

HERE WE ARE, PETE!

New York Wednesday night

Camped once more in the plumb centre of our old stamping grounds—rubbing elbows with the roaring racket and running flush into more electric displays, blazing posters and smashing signs that sound the joys of Camel Cigarettes than you'd ever believe could be jammed into one town!

When I hit Broadway this p. m. I'd said the Reynolds folks had transplanted "Camel City" right up here!

It seems like all New Yorkers have adopted Camels as their own personal brand! And, Pete, since this is the original speed town it's only what you expect when you see 'em carry a package of Camels in each coat pocket. If their right hand is busy, they dig out their left hand deck—they just won't lose time getting a Camel lighted! That's the gait around here, old throbber!

And, Pete, the New Yorker has his own A-1 pet reason why he's so keen for Camels. For instance, Doc Marshall will bet his car on Camels quality against any cigarette in the world! Bill James says to me—"Shorty, there never was mild, mellow body like Camels." And, as for Dan Boggs—he spills it that Camels are the only cigarette free from any unpleasant cigarette aftertaste or cigarette odor! And, he knows! Frank Frazer will tell you it's Camels wonderful Turkish and Domestic blend! And all of them are right!

And, Pete, old proof-of-the-pudding—you tell 'em that Missouri hasn't anything on little old New York when it comes to that "show me" stuff, on cigarettes or anything else!

Sincerely

"Stars of Wales"

She was first conferred on Prince Edward, afterward King Edward II of England, in 1201. He was born at Carnarvon, Wales, and the story goes that the king presented the newborn child to the Welsh as their native prince who could speak no word of English. The idea of taking the title for the heir apparent to the British throne was introduced by Edward III, when in 1284 he married his son, the Black Prince, with the principality. From that time the title has been borne by the eldest son of the reigning king.

Dear Dolly—Please tell me something about Labrador, where is it located and what kind of people live there?

TIME READER.
Labrador is the name applied to the whole of the northern peninsula of British North America, lying between the Gulf of St. Lawrence and Hudson Bay. It extends along the northeastern coast of the peninsula from the Strait of Belle Isle to Cape Chisley, at the northern entrance of Hudson Strait. The western boundary of the territory is indefinite but may be taken roughly coinciding with the 65th degree of west longitude. The southern part of the peninsula is a part of the Canadian Province of Quebec and the whole western half forms the territory of Ungava. The inhabitants are mostly Eskimos in the north and Indians in the south. A few whites are scattered along the coast settlements. Politically Labrador is a territory belonging to the British Colony of Newfoundland. It became a dependency of Newfoundland in 1703.

Dear Dolly—I am an ex-soldier and would like to know if you know of any who would like to give me some kind of a light job as I am not able to do the work that I did before I was injured. I am suffering from injuries received while in France and have not worked only 3 weeks in 14 months. I draw a small compensation, but it is very small and I just can't make both ends meet and I would like to have a job as a clerk or collector or truck driver or something in that line, so please advise me if you can.

EX-SOLDIER.
I can't help you without knowing your name and address. If you will let me know where I can reach you I will try and find work for you.

Dear Miss Wise—I am a young man 25 years of age and have been married but I am not living with my wife and have not for over two years as I was one of the lucky boys who fought for Old Glory and when I returned from across the deep blue and came home, people came running to me with a pack of lies about my wife that I knew were lies for I caught them in their own trap. But of course I did not know at the time and so I tried to catch her but was unsuccessful in the attempt as my wife found out that I was in town. She got mad at me then I was mad at what I had heard and told her about it. We agreed to disagree and I returned to my home in

MISS DOLLY WISE

She is here to answer any and all questions concerning love, matrimony, business, money, etiquette, etc. Inquiries should be addressed to Miss Dolly Wise, care The Daily Times, Portsmouth, Ohio.

Keynote. But Dolly I can't forget her. I have tried but it is impossible for Dolly she is the only woman I ever met that I could love and I would like to know how I could get her to listen to me and let me prove to her that I do love her and would do anything in my power to make her the happiest woman on earth. She is just as good as she is pretty. So please advise me how I can get her back again as I am very anxious.

BOB.
I would advise you to go to your wife and talk things over with her. No doubt she was mad at the time, but she has had plenty of time to think things over and will probably be glad to make up again. If you do not think it would be advisable to call, write her a letter. If she takes you back, don't let the neighbors come between you again.

BILLY WHISKERS

Billy could just make out to see that his friends, the monkeys, were wide awake and ready to do the parts agreed upon when Mike and Jim came for him.

The bolt was softly withdrawn and the cage door swung noiselessly open. Mike's great arm followed by his head and shoulders were thrust inside the cage. Billy felt himself firmly grasped about the waist and in another second he would have been dragged out and on the ground, but just in the nick of time the long thin arm of Colonel Mandrill shot out once more, but this time it grasped not Billy Whiskers but the neck of Mike. The keeper, we already know from Billy Whiskers' former experience the terrible strength of old Blue Nose's right arm. Mike was jumping about it now. He let go Billy and pulled and tore at the thing that was tightening about his throat. He would have called to Jim but could make no sound. He tried to pull away but all in vain.

Jim crowded in by the side of Mike to find out what was wrong. Quicker than it takes to tell it, a down lean arm, big and little, had grabbed him wherever they could lay hold, and in two seconds he was as helpless as Mike.

Billy did not try to interfere for a minute or two. Then he took matters in hand. He commanded Colonel Blue Nose to let go, but he did not obey. He ordered the other monkeys to drop Jim, but they followed old Blue Nose's bad example.

Billy was now frightened for the lives of the two men. He didn't want to be responsible for their deaths in such a dreadful way. He reminded the monkeys that they had chosen him their leader and once more ordered them to give over their prey. At this Colonel Mandrill reluctantly obeyed and Mike dropped limp and unconscious at the side of the cage. The others followed the example of old Blue Nose and Jim fell by the side of his pal in no better condition. Billy and the monkeys might now have made their escape, but all were of the opinion that they were being treated too well and the prospects of fun were too good to

JOIN THE RED CROSS NOW: HELP A NOBLE CAUSE

The total number of members enrolled in the Red Cross up to Tuesday morning had passed the three thousand mark and the outlook for a large number in the next few days is promising to officials.

Had weather held down the attendance at the meeting last night but the twelve district leaders that reported had amassed a total of hundreds of dollars. The various clubs and organizations were represented and told of the work being done.

Orin E. Bicker, chairman of the roll call, urged a re-vassess of the various districts to pick up memberships that had been overlooked. Many people who were not at home at the time of the first canvass can be secured in this manner.

A new manner for the canvassing of the Whitaker-Glessner plant has been devised and it is expected to produce better results as it was impossible for the girls to visit all the men. The foremen of the various departments in the entire plant will see the men working under them personally and a large number of new members are expected by this means.

Those who were unable to attend the meeting last night and make their report are requested to see that their districts are thoroughly covered. Officials of the drive are depending largely upon the house to house canvassers and all canvassers are asked to make sure that every one in their district has been given a chance to subscribe.

The results in this county are not up to expectations to date and with the exception of South Webster, Gettysville, Wheelersburg and Lincoln, the results have been disappointing to officials. Canvassers at South Webster have used up all their supplies and requested more.

The total number of memberships secured last year was in the neighborhood of 3,500.

WILL DISCUSS FARE INCREASE

New Boston council and officials of the Portsmouth Street Railroad and Light Company will discuss the merits of the proposed ordinance for an increase in street car fare at an open meeting to be held at the town hall at New Boston Tuesday night.

There has been some opposition manifested by members of the New Boston council to the ordinance in its present form and an effort will be made to iron the wrinkles out of the proposed legislation so that it will be agreeable to all concerned.

The citizens of New Boston have been invited to be present at the meeting and participate in the discussion.

BIG ROBBERY IN HUNTINGTON

HUNTINGTON, Nov. 23.—Fighting through a rear window, three burglars carried away goods to the estimated value of $1,073.50, from the store of Philip Maloney, 424 Fourteenth street West, last night. Police officials are working on the case, but only have meager descriptions of the robbers. It is their belief that this is an "auto-mobile" theft.

A hasty checking of stock showed that the thieves got away with 23 suits of clothes, 80 pairs of trousers, 35 silk shirts, 30 plain shirts, 6 suits, 6 suits of underclothes, 6 overcoats, 2 leather rain coats, 12 sweaters and 6 flannel shirts.

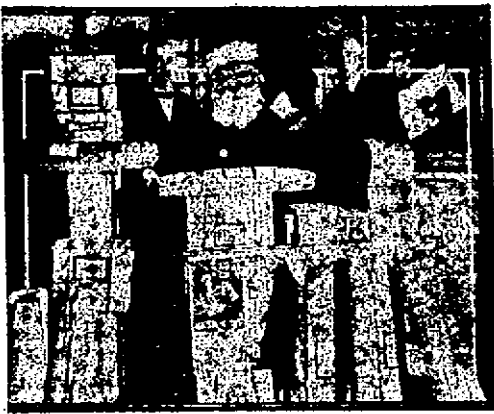

The store of S. Steward, 1634 Eighth avenue, was robbed of 50 pennies and candy last night.

ACCUSED MAN HELD UNDER $1,000 BOND

The preliminary hearing of J. G. Neal, aged 40 years, steelworker, on a charge made by Florence Pruitt, 15-year-old Steubenville girl, before Mayor Burn Davis at New Boston, Tuesday morning, resulted in the accused being sent to the grand jury under $1,000 bond.

The accused was arrested Saturday on a complaint filed by Mrs. Rita Pruitt, mother of the girl. In default of bond the defendant was remanded to the county jail to await the action of the grand jury.

THIRTY MILLION HEALTH SEALS TO SPREAD CHRISTMAS CHEER IN OHIO

A. E. McKee, Columbus, Chairman Educational Committee for Christmas Seal Sale, and Dr. C. B. Blise, Sandusky, photographed with packages containing Thirty Million Christmas Seals and 20,000 Posters, ready to be shipped to local Christmas Seal agents from headquarters of Ohio Public Health Association at Columbus.

MANUFACTURERS and big business men, busy newspaper editors and active club women, are going to find time during the next few weeks to put in some good looks for promoting the sale of the 1920 Christmas Seals to spread Christmas cheer and raise funds to combat tuberculosis.

Rotary clubs and chambers of commerce in several cities are planning to get into the game Dec. 1 and sell the little health stamps, thus enabling local and state health organizations to more effectively fight disease during the coming year.

The State Christmas Seal Committee has completed shipment of 30,000,000 seals, about 40,000 posters and other literature advertising the seals to every county in the state. The task of selling the seals is now in the hands of the local anti-tuberculosis societies, public health leagues and other organizations.

These little Christmas Seals sell for a penny apiece and in counties where the proper organization has been perfected to do public health work 80 per cent of the proceeds of the sale remains in the community. Many schools are going to sell seals this year to raise money to buy scales, reference books and sanitary equipment needed for carrying on the school health crusade.

The Success of Your Thanksgiving Dinner May Depend on the Flour You Use

A lot depends on your choice of a flour this year. Only four per cent of the whole hard winter wheat crop was strong enough to produce flour that will do really fine baking.

Enterprise you can count on. It is milled from this "four per cent wheat" even though we had to pay the highest premium we have ever paid for every bushel we bought. You needn't worry about your Thanksgiving baking if you use Enterprise Flour.

Enterprise costs more than ordinary flour because of its high and absolutely dependable quality. But think of the better baking it will do. And a sack will go further.

Lack Of Interest Of American Capital In Nation's Insular Possessions Retards Progress

WASHINGTON, Nov. 23.—Inability to interest American capital on a large scale in the nation's insular possessions, particularly the Philippines, has resulted in greatly retarding development of the great natural resources of the islands according to the annual report of Major General Frank McIntire, chief of the bureau of insular affairs of the war department, to Secretary Baker.

General McIntire urges American bankers and business men to interest themselves in the trade and development possibilities of the outlying possessions, declaring that "large tracts of the best agricultural lands in the world await development," and that "in a number of fertile provinces the population falls below 20 persons per square mile, while there is an unexploited labor demand in other agricultural provinces having population of 250 per square mile."

Action has been taken by the Philippine legislature to provide for the exploration and leasing of lands containing petroleum and other mineral oils and gases, in which connection General McIntire says that "the existence of oil in widely separated localities in the Philippines has been known since the occupation of the islands, but there has been no serious effort at development. There is no promise that in the near future that it will be developed."

It is well known whether this oil exists in such a way as to be of commercial use.

The organic act of 1916 providing for the government of the Philippines and greatly increasing the powers of the legislature has in no way disappointed the hopes then suppressed, says the report, although a number of changes are recommended. Among the suggestions is one that the immigration laws to check immigration from the Philippines, particularly to Hawaii, that the land laws be altered to permit of leasing of larger divisions of government lands, that the limit of the public debt of the islands be raised from $15,000,000 to $25,000,000; that salaries of United States officials in the Philippines be increased and that the laws respecting the citizenship of Filipinos be clarified to give the island inhabitants the full effect of the intention of congress in declaring them "citizens of the Philippine Islands and as such entitled to the protection of the United States."

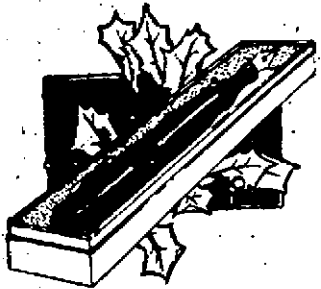

Trade figures for the island possessions for the past year were given as follows: Philippines, imports, $118,000,000; exports, $113,117,000; the bulk of the trade being with the United States in both cases. Porto Rico imports $6,389,000, exports $12,631,000, of which $133,207,000 went to the United States.

HAVANA, November 23.—Western Union officials here deny any knowledge of the reported intention of their company to land the cable laid between Havana and Miami at a point in Cuba, probably Havana, in case the American government persists in its refusal to permit the landing of the cable at Miami.

It is learned, however, the Western Union some time ago was granted all concessions necessary for landing of the cable on Cuban soil.

He turned the pages of the bible thoughtfully and chose the twenty-fifth psalm as reflecting his attitude. Noted Germans Smuggle Money In to Holland

BERLIN, November 23.—One hundred eminent persons, among them Crown Princess Cecile, Prince Eitel Frederick, Prince August Wilhelm, the late Prince Josephine, Count Radolff and Princess Wanda Radolff, have smuggled to Holland money aggregating 500,000,000 marks, asserted Hermann Mueller, former German chancellor in the retelling today. The former chancellor declared the firm of Crussier and Phillips, bankers, carried on an extensive business in smuggling property out of Germany.

"The government learned a few days ago that millions of its cash and securities were standing to the credit of German subjects with the firm of Crussier and Phillips in Amsterdam and that these millions had gone there through an intermediary in contravention of German laws," said Dr. Wirth, minister of finance. "The public prosecutor started an inquiry into the flight of this capital, and the firm's books have been seized. Proceedings are pending against a number of persons who sent money to Holland, but I am unable to give exact details."

"Every effort was made to apprehend Crussier by surrounding his office, but he was warned and succeeded in escaping."

Prof. Kahl, a member of the German people's party declared Herr Mueller was trying to throw mud on the Hollander and the monarchy. He asserted Crussier had only once visited Crown Princess Cecile in order to hand her a letter from the crown prince.

INDIAN POET SAYS WE HAVE NO CALM

Sir Bahadur Nath Jagore.

Sir Bahadur Nath Jagore, the great philosopher and mystic poet of India, who recently witnessed the Yale-Princeton game, declared before leaving the university that there is no calm in America. "This is probably due to your climate," he said. "You do not consume enough with the Vamphrey." He said he was not surprised at the size of the crowd, for in India the football association attracts "nearly twice as many."

It was the color and organization of the crowd at the style of play which he noticed.

Gasoline "Boiling Points"—and Piston Rings

WET gasoline vapor or raw gasoline break down the lubricant in the cylinder. This causes worn piston rings and power loss.

The gasoline with a complete chain of boiling points gives the quick vaporization which prevents wet vapor or raw fuel from entering the cylinder.

Red Crown Gasoline is a uniform fuel with this essential chain of low, intermediate and high boiling points which insures more complete vaporization at every engine speed.

Perpetual Motion. One of the examples of perpetual motion machines given by Mr. Beaumont is the electric dry pile, of which a celebrated specimen made by Singer 75 years ago "has been continuously turning its little chime bell at Oxford for the whole of that long period of time and shows no sign at present of any actual diminution of energy." Of course, no one knows what the life of the electric dry pile may be.

Safeguarding the Children. Frederick Hurlingham, American explorer, just returned from central Borneo, tells of methods employed by natives to protect young children from wild boar, bee constrioters, and poisonous insects. The children are swathed in garments and swung on rattan vines suspended between trees. Crocodiles take a large toll of children in Borneo, says the explorer, despite precautions taken.

"Our Budget Plan will bring the New Edison this Xmas!"

THIS is the time of the year when our Budget Plan is most helpful. You ought to come in right away and find out what it can do for you.

In the first place, it will put a New Edison beside your Christmas tree, (how the family will rejoice!)

In the second place, it will stretch your Christmas dollar so that you'll hardly feel the purchase.

The Budget Plan treats the New Edison as an essential of life, such as a home, and arranges payments on the sound "time" principle. It combines modern business practice with thrift.

This way of treating a dollar actually makes it go farther. Let us explain how the Budget Plan brings the longed-for New Edison for what an extremely ordinary gift would cost,—and makes 1921 thrift pay for the balance.

644 Eggs Per Month
From 30 Hens in January and February
 A. S. Pujol, New Orleans, La., sent us the above report: says that he is using Pratt's Poultry Regulator daily; that it has worked wonders with his hens; that before using "Pratt's" the number of eggs laid was very discouraging; and that 3 settings of 18 eggs brought 30 strong, healthy chicks,
 all of them developing into fine birds.
 Pratt's Poultry Regulator, mixed with a good egg-making ration, not only makes hens lay, but the eggs wanted for hatching will produce sturdy chicks that will develop into A-1 pullets and cockerels. Test
 "Pratt's" with this understanding:
 "Your Money Back if YOU Are Not Satisfied!" Pratt's Poultry Regulator will make your poultry pay.

Says Crowd At The Park Stamped

DUBLIN, Nov. 22.—Crown forces which went to Croke Park on Sunday afternoon in an effort to arrest alleged gunmen were fired upon by pickets, and as an outcome of the resultant fighting the crowd inside the park stamped, said a statement issued at Dublin Castle late last night in reference to the incident at the park.

"It had been arranged," said the statement, "that when the grounds had been surrounded, an officer with a megaphone would announce to the crowd the intention of the military to search persons in the park for arms, because it was the belief that men associated with the murder of fourteen officers Sunday morning were hiding in the crowd."

"An officer was detailed for that purpose, but before the crown forces could approach the field, they were fired upon by pickets. Thus the whole plan was upset, and the crowd was stampeded. There is good reason to believe some of the shots were fired in the grounds for the purpose of creating a panic, which would allow the men wanted to escape, as many of them undoubtedly did."

The Gaelic Athletic Association officially denied there was any picketing at the grounds or that any body fired on the troops.

William Carke of Toledo, Ohio, president of the American Glass Workers' Union, and Thomas MacReady, superintendent of the Phoenix Gas company, Monaca, Pa., visited Croke Park today and inquired into the circumstances attending the disorder of Sunday afternoon.

Plan Relief For Refugees

CONSTANTINOPLE, November 23.—Measures to bring relief to the thousands of Russian refugees held on ships now at anchor in the Bosphorus have been started by allied representatives in this city. Rear Admiral Mark I. Driestel, commanding American naval forces operating in Turkish waters, has, with Mrs. Bristol, organized a series of teas at the United States embassy for the purpose of raising funds for the Russians. Tens of thousands of subscriptions have been received from the people of Constantinople, all elements joining in the work.

down and stunned, windows were broken, an automobile wrecked and other damage incurred by a meteor which fell at Houserville, five miles from Kingwood, in Preston county, last night. The meteor fell during a great electrical storm, striking with such violence that earth tremors were felt over a radius of twelve miles. It burned itself several feet in the earth and at ten o'clock last night workmen were still engaged in examining it.

The news of the fall of the meteor reached here by long distance telephone, the message coming from Richard M. Bates, Jr., Huntington architect, who is in Kingwood on business.

Mr. Bates, who visited Houserville after the fall of the meteor, said that while no one was seriously injured, a number were shocked by the electric current and that the whole community was thrown into a panic. Many women fainted, he said.

The meteor, he said, landed about seventy-five yards from a roadway. An automobile on this roadway was stripped of its top and the windshield was broken.

"Were you nervous when you went up in the airship?" "Not exactly nervous," answered Sergeant Sorghum, "but I admit I was glad I wasn't expected to get out on the rear platform and make a speech."

Millions In Seized Drugs For Hospitals

NEW YORK, November 23.—More than a million dollars worth of narcotic soon will be available for use in hospitals throughout the country as the result of seizures by government agents here within the past two months. It was announced today by Frank I. Boyd, supervisor of the prohibition enforcement department.

The drugs principally morphine and cocaine will be sent to Washington, where they will be examined and standardized for medicinal use. Frank J. Fitzpatrick, supervisor of the narcotics division of the prohibition enforcement department, today expressed the opinion that, despite the large seizures, the drug habit is on the decrease.

PIRATES OF COLUMBUS PLAY HERE ON THURSDAY

The Wagner Pirates of Columbus Smoke House football team at Mill Creek park on Turkey Day instead of the Columbus Smoke House team as announced by Manager August Putzke Monday.

The Pirates rank among the best teams in Columbus and if the Smoke House team is to defeat them it will require the best efforts of the entire team. Sunday the Pirates defeated the West Side Athletic Club of Columbus by a score of 13-7, which should cause the local team to at least take notice because the defeated team has a state wide reputation as a fast, clever team.

Among the stars on the Wagner Pirates are the four Miller brothers, two ends, one tackle and one quarterback. Getting at one halfback is a big star, a fast dodging open field runner that is bound to make trouble for the local eleven unless he is carefully watched.

The Smoke House squad practiced in the high school gymnasium last night and a lot of enthusiasm was displayed by the team. A similar practice will be held tonight.

The big objective of the hard fight being put in by the local team is the game with the front tank Monday rather than the Thanksgiving Day game.

Big Bill Crichton's Wholesalers, aided and abetted by the skillful, scientific and spectacular work of Anchor Man Jesse Roberts, crack ad man on the Daily Times made history in their clean sweep of all three games with the leaders, the Brummeis at the Play House alley last night. The Wholesalers not only made high total pins for three games, 2421 but Mr. Roberts, using more speed than comes from the muzzle of a Mauser rifle in action, shot for the huge total of 504, topping the list of notable performers in the Muscou league for 1920. Jesse started with a score of 232, came right back with 181, and then hit the wood for a duplicate of his second game, much to the delight of the large crowd present. His record is going to be hard to duplicate, marks the prediction. He hit the pins like Jimmy Smith in his prime and was warmly congratulated upon his big night.

The Wholesalers looked like champions, and yet, the Brummeis made them go some, despite the fact of three blinds at the start of the game. Had the Brummeis—oh heck, what's the use, Captain Sheridan came all the way from Cleveland to get in the games, but could not get here in time for the first game. However, he did fairly well when once in the line up. While Mr. Roberts did fine work for the Wholesalers, guess that old reliable Joseph Updegraff, lead off man for the Brummeis, wasn't there with the heels on, getting 550 and one game of 220. Guess that chap isn't gladdening the heart of his captain and fellow team mates. Captain Crichton shot well over the 500 mark and was a big factor in his teams clean sweep. William Briggs, the victors was out there too, and all in all, the Wholesalers had the best time of their young lives. The scores:

At last! Mars has spoken!

YOUNG HIRAM Jinks.
 HAD TRIED for weeks.
 TO TALK to Mars.
 BY WIRELESS.
 HE'D POUNDED his key.
 CALLING "MARS, Hello, Mars."
 UNTIL HIS right biceps.
 WAS THE village pride.
 HE HARDLY dared to sleep.
 LEST HE miss the call.
 AND SAW One evening.
 HE GOT an answering buzz.
 "YEP, THIS is Mars."
 AND HIRAM shook all over.
 AND STUTTERED back in Morse.
 "HAVE YOU any word.
 FOR US on Earth?"
 QUICK CAME the answer.
 "YOU CAN tell the world.
 THEY SATISFY!" Then silence.
 HIRAM RAN to the corner store.
 AND SHOUTED in triumph.
 "A MESSAGE from Mars!
 YOU CAN tell the world.
 THEY SATISFY!"
 BUT THE village elders.
 MERELY SNORTED "Stucka.
 KNOWN THAT for years."
 WHILE OUT in the army camp.
 THE RADIO man.
 WHO'D BEEN kidding Hiram.
 THREW AWAY his butt.
 AND LAUGHED himself to sleep.

B-U-Z-Z-Z. Listen to this one! Chesterfields "satisfy," and yet they're mild. With body enough to "satisfy" even a cigar smoker, Chesterfields are mild enough to suit even the most finicky cigarette smoker. That's some combination!—and this unique blend can't be copied.

The Selby's almost climbed to the top when they met the Alles yesterday evening at Wilhelms Hall, and took three straight by the scores of 21 to 6, 21 to 5 and 21 to 12. The Alles put up a good scrap, Dave Mitchell being back in his old time form, but they were outclassed, being with the exception of their captain, all this year's men, playing against veterans. Bankers' little post at once like Willie Bonow and Wrenshaw. The Alles put up a hot scrap for all that, home with him. The Bankers played and on Saturday they will meet the third game with ease, 21 to 10. It's my advice to you, N. R. Griffin, to stay on the job.

The line ups were as follows: Selby's—Boscoe Donohoe, Capt. Joe Brennan, J. R. Wiley, C. Kearns and Watson. Goehard, Alles—Dave Mitchell, Capt. Eddie Hock, Earl Lory and J. A. H. Jordan, Herman Campbell, E. Fortner, Henderson—Ray Griffith, C. Canish, H. Arthur and Walter Brodbeck.

Look For A Record Crowd

Up in Ironton the football fans of that city claim more than 2,500 people will turn out Sunday to see the Smoke House team and the Tanks settle their argument. There is no question but that the weather permits it will be a record and a record crowd will be on hand. The teams are pretty evenly matched and both will practice hard and long this week.

WHERE THE BLAME LIES

A S a result of its investigation of public school teachers' salaries in all cities of over 8,000 population, the United States Chamber of Commerce reports that they are "worse off than before the war." And this despite the popular agitation of the subject of increased compensation and the action taken by the legislatures of several states.

Another distressing disclosure of the nation-wide inquiry is the extremely limited experience of many teachers. Emergency teachers, lacking proper training for the work, are found filling most important positions. The report says they compose "an alarmingly large proportion" of those now in the classrooms. It was formerly accepted that teachers in the elementary schools should be at least graduates of standard normal schools, says the report, which means a two-year professional course following graduation from high school, but now "more than one-third of the teachers in American cities have less training than this low standard and there are thousands of teachers in our elementary schools who have even less preparation than is afforded by a four-year high school course."

The deficiency is closely related to the matter of low remuneration. The poor compensation is responsible for the gaps in the ranks of teachers which must be filled somehow. The blame rests not upon the poorly equipped emergency teachers, but upon the system which pays, even the qualified teacher in many instances far less than the wages of the man who drives the dump cart or wields the pick and shovel.

THE SHAKERS

THE old Shaker settlement at Union Village, in southern Ohio, has been abandoned. It was the last one of the Middle West, and was founded 115 years ago. Three old ladies, the last of a community that once numbered 600 have departed. Two have gone to their final reward. The third has joined the moribund Shaker colony in New Hampshire, the last one on earth.

The strict moral life, the clean health, the excellent craftsmanship of the middle western Shaker communities made the sect a byword for a dozen decades. Set upon by mobs and persecuted in the courts, accused of all sorts of laxities because of their curious dances, the Shakers battled well and long. Now their sect is about gone and their large land holdings the property of other churches.

Drab costumes and gentle ways made the Shakers conspicuous in the last century wherever their quiet communities were found. Yet occasionally there was something to enliven even their dull days.

For instance, there was Elder William Reynolds, who entered the ministry in 1875. "For a period of three years," says an old Shaker document, "every Sunday he would turn over and over like a cartwheel from the residence to the church. On leaving the church, he would be seized with the same impulse. At this unusual and unseemly practice he was intensely mortified. The power controlling him was so great that at times he would turn over fences, just as though they were naught."

And now the Shakers are gone from among us. We shall not look upon their like again.

SILENCE

SILENCE is the best resolve for him who distrusts himself," says La Rochefoucauld. The maximum has been taken to heart by a Boston convict, who was released from prison the other day on completion of a 25-year sentence. For 10 years he has not spoken a syllable, writing on a pad in answer to every question as to why he did not talk: "My tongue has got me into too much trouble already." Betrayed by a fellow prisoner of a confidence is the reason to which this extraordinary course is ascribed.

If what the philosophers have said in praise of silence from ancient times down to the present should be accepted literally the man must be regarded as a model of wisdom. "Speech is silver, silence is golden," says an old proverb, or as Carlyle puts it, "Speech is of time, silence is of eternity." "I have often regretted my speech, never my silence," said an old Roman. He added: "Let a fool hold his tongue and he will pass for a sage."

But he will also pass for a sour, grim creature. He will have few friends. Conversation is the very life-blood of social intercourse. The silent man or woman is perforce a recluse—or a "wall flower." If he has nothing to say, he must ransack his mind for something and say it anyway. Almost anything will suffice. The most banal platitudes concerning the weather are preferable to silence. Indeed, the more frivolous the conversation, the better are the conventions satisfied. Profound subjects cannot be discussed glibly.

THE RETURN OF SILVER

By Frederic J. Haskin

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah, Nov. 23.—The quest of silver, which played so important a part in the development of this country, is again attracting large numbers of fortune-seekers to the west. For the first time in many quiet years, Salt Lake City is thronged with prospectors on their way back and forth from the mountains, where mining camps that have slumbered longer than Rip Van Winkle are stirring in their sleep and threatening a renewal of their former activity.

Silver is once more coming into its own. The reason is that the world's demand for it is much greater than the present available supply, which condition is sufficient to keep the price of silver at a fair figure for years to come.

One hears much excited conjecture as to the future of the metal here in Salt Lake City, which is the greatest smelting center in the world. As such, it receives practically all of the silver ore produced on this continent—ore from Mexico and Canada as well as that from Utah, Nevada and Montana mines. The largest silver mines are in Mexico; the largest silver mines in this country is in Montana, and the second largest in Utah. Some of this product is shipped by way of San Francisco to the Orient, but the greater part goes to London.

The history of silver, of its rise and fall, is curiously romantic. Once a king among metals, sought for by pirates and pirates, and capable of drawing an army of fortune-hunters across a continent, silver tumbled and fell after demoralization in 1873, until dozens of silver mines were compelled to close down. Before the late war, the owner of a silver mine was not to be envied. He was in the same position as many owners of gold claims today, who cannot afford to operate them. Mining costs were too high, and the price of silver too low.

The greatest demand for silver has always been in the Orient. There are only two great countries in the world which are not on a gold basis, and these are China and India. They are the chief silver-consuming nations. This is because they are heavily in debt to other nations, and must trade with them on whatever terms their creditors see fit. If China could succeed in developing its splendid natural resources so that it could get out of debt, it could demand payment for its goods in gold. But until then it will have to take silver.

India, the Silver Sink.

In India the collapse is entirely of silver, which is minted by the British government. The demand for silver for personal adornment is also very great in that country, owing to the preference of the people for carrying their wealth about with them. Thieves flourish so successfully in India, that this is an almost necessary precaution. At the cry of "thief!" in the night, the average native family merely gets up and runs, carrying its riches in the form of bracelets, rings, and chains. The same custom is observed in certain parts of our own west, where the men carry their wealth not in the form of silver, but of diamonds.

The silver authorities in Salt Lake City speak of India as the silver sink. They say they don't know what becomes of all of it, but that no silver which ever goes into India ever comes out. While this is a slight exaggeration, of course, it is true that a great deal of metal is hoarded from generation to generation, through which it is passed down much in the same form as the families of other nations pass down their real estate. Widows in India, for instance, have no dowry right, but they are permitted to keep their ornaments, which naturally causes the native women to demand as many silver necklaces as possible.

All of the Indian supply of silver coinage is provided by the British gov-

War Prices of Silver

This custom suffered a severe check with the war. Then the British government and the other allied governments were in need of unusually large quantities of the metal with which to pay China and India for war supplies. Most of this silver they had to buy from the United States. There was not nearly sufficient metal on hand in this country to supply the demand, and the price started rising. As an ally in the war, the United States government was compelled to interfere and set an export price on silver at $101.18 an ounce, which was higher than Great Britain had ever permitted it to go, but not as high as American mine-owners liked.

Then, as the demand for the metal became acute, and it was also needed to meet our own adverse trade balance with India, Congress passed what is known as the Pittman Act, authorizing the secretary of the treasury to issue down 350,000,000 silver dollars held in the vaults of the treasury and to sell the bullion. The silver certificates outstanding against these dollars were to be previously retired and their place in the circulation to be taken by notes issued by the federal reserve banks, secured by special deposits of United States treasury certificates.

This kept the price of silver steady for the period of the war, but upon the signing of the armistice the export restriction was removed. Immediately the price of silver started soaring until last December it reached the unprecedented figure of $1.33 an ounce. Everybody began melting down his silver heirlooms for bullion, which sold at a tremendous profit. Silver plate and ornaments bought in the years 1904 and 1905 when silver was selling at from 52 to 60 cents an ounce suddenly became worth twice as much. It looked as if whole fortunes were to be made in old spoons and knives and forks. But in a short time the silver public burst.

The Flood of Bullion

For Europe also had plenty of silver heirlooms and coins, and every country, including Germany, started flooding the market with bullion from these sources. Then came the Japanese panic, which hit the market hard, because a good deal of trade through China and India is handled by Japan. The price of silver once more declined until it reached $1.00. Here the United States government once more interfered and guaranteed it to remain at this figure by agreeing to buy the silver necessary to replace the dollars taken from the treasury during the war.

Thus, today there are two prices for silver—one in this country, and one for the rest of the world, set by the same old group of brokers in London. London no longer controls the price for American silver, however, which it must buy at a loss.

With this government guarantee, the production of silver is now profitable enough a cause the old mines to reopen. Throughout Utah and Nevada whole villages which have slept peacefully for decades are coming back to life with renewed vitality. Camps whose names would have been forgotten but for Mark Twain, are now receiving daily notices in the mining press; people are again seen about their streets, and houses no longer deserted are receiving new coats of paint. Durbin, Tascara, Piocha, Cherry Creek, the Bellefleur, the Silver Wave and other mining enterprises are once more names to conjure with.

both in the United States and in England. Q. Was the picture entitled "Baby Nature" at one time part of a group? G. W. L. A. The famous picture entitled, "Baby Nature" painted by Van Dyke, Duke of York, the youngest child of Charles I of England. The child was about one year old at the time the painting was made. He was born October 14, 1633. The picture was originally one of the group of the three children of the King. The other two were Charles, Prince of Wales, who was four years old at the time the picture was made, and Mary, who later became the Princess of Orange, who was a little over three years of age at that time.

WHO'S WHO In The Days News

GEORGE SUTHERLAND
Ex-Senator Geo. Sutherland of Utah is mentioned as one of the men sure to be chosen by President-elect Harding for his cabinet. The attorney general or secretaryship of the navy, will be his, it is reported.

Sutherland is a naturalized citizen, his birthplace being Buckinghamshire, England. He was born March 25, 1862. He came to the U. S. at an early age, however, and completed his education in Utah and at the University of Michigan. He was awarded degrees at that institution and that he was admitted to the bar in 1883 and has maintained his law practice at Salt Lake City since 1892. He was a member of the first Utah senate in 1896. He was a member of the Fifty-seventh congress (1901-02), but declined the re-election. He was twice elected U. S. senator, his last term ending in 1917. He has been a delegate to several Republican national conventions.

Q. What green feed should be given to hens in the winter time? O. M. A. The Department of Agriculture says that sprouted oats, alfalfa meal, chopped alfalfa and clover hay, cabbage, and mangold beets are good kinds of green feed for hens during the winter. Cabbages may be hung up in the poultry house, and the leaves are split and hung about the floor to keep the feed clean.

Q. How did coffee get its name? P. A. T. V.

A. Coffee derives its name from Kaffa in Abyssinia, in which country it is believed that coffee trees originated. The botanical name Coffea arabica was given it because it was in Arabia that coffee was first cultivated and used as a beverage. Q. In the story of the revolving record on a phonograph, governs the pitch of the place, why does the pitch remain the same when the needle reaches the inner grooves where it travels slower? F. W. P.

A. The Bureau of Standards says that the pitch of a phonograph record depends upon the number of vibrations per second on the disc, and the vibrations are caused by the frequency of the sound waves on the record. The number of these waves is greater near the edge of the record than near the center, for the same sound. The number of grooves passed over in a given time is exactly the same, whether the needle is near the edge or near the center.

Q. In the days when the Senate held its sessions in the room now occupied by the Supreme Court, where did the Supreme Court sit? G. O. M.

A. The room occupied by the Supreme Court, was the Senate Chamber until 1859, and the Supreme Court then used the room immediately beneath, now used as a law library.

Q. What is meant by the term "Mississippi Bubble"? J. E. A. "The Mississippi Bubble" was a banking and commercial scheme projected in France at the beginning of the reign of Louis XV by a Scottish financier named John Law. It resulted in the panic of 1729.

Q. When was the first block signal used and what railroad used it? E. J. A. The actual operation of the block signaling system dates from the year 1833, when it was used on the Great Western Railway of England. Sir John Ericsson, who invented the system, came to be used extensively in 1875, came to be used extensively

New-York-Day-By-Day

BY O. O. MONTAGUE

NEW YORK, Nov. 23.—The old Brerort, the center of social gaiety in the days of smart carriages, daily's and bustles, has been somewhat overlooked by modern hotels with kaleid-oscopic elevator boys, fountain ca-perous in gold and the like but an atmosphere of dignified cheer clings to it still.

Far down Fifth Avenue, within the shadow of Washington's Arch, it is the only hotel that has withstood the northward trend. The St. Denis, Union Square, and even the Fifth Avenue hotels are memories. Notable matrons in horse drawn equipages still drive there for afternoon tea.

Even prohibition has failed to disturb it. For rare drinks were fashioned at the Brevoort in the old days.
The pousse cafe, with its rainbow of color, was a specialty. There were drinks from which they blue flames issued, old brandy served in glasses upside down—only the expert could right them and preserve the drink.

There was no music and after the dinner guests retired to a lounging room—English fashion—with their coffee and played domino and cubo.
Opera stars, popular comedians and actresses of the day came there and threw off their reserve. One dined with one's neighbor without introduction. Yet there pervaded the atmosphere a certain dignity—indeed a faint.

Of course, the character of the Bre-voort clientele has changed. Mark twain used to drop in from his home
a few blocks away and soon a crowd of ready listeners were about him.
Now perhaps a misused poet from Greenwich Village takes his place and hurts cutting epigrams at burlesque glasses worn by magazine editors or carries the denunciation of art.

But almost every afternoon there is to be found a group of successful novelists, artists and painters around the marble topped tables at the old hotel.
The waiters have been there for years.

Slightly Misunderstood

A salesman was showing an elderly lady the virtues of the car he sells. It made many turns and at the proper times extended his arms as a turning signal.

The old lady watched the proceeding for some time. Then she craned her neck and looked at the sky.
"Mister," she said, sternly tapping him on the shoulder, "you just tend to your driving. It don't look like rain, now, but if it should, I'll let you know."

Bad Form

"What's this?" asked the party worker.
A little propaganda to influence the woman's vote," said the practical politician.
"Huh?"
"We are quietly passing the word around that it will be considered a social sin to bolt the ticket."

The Kind

"I understand there was a long line for some time in front of the store selling paper clothes."
"I see, a regular paper wait."

Not To Be Blamed

He—A self-made man is common enough, but we seldom hear of a self-made woman.

Sad's Night

Of all the sad words
That have trouble brought,
We find none sadder
Than "I forgot."

A Memorable Date

"Among the memorable dates in history," wrote a school boy in a composition, "was Anthony's date with Cleopatra."

Late, But Good

The Literary Digest offers each week
a prize of fifty dollars for the best argument in compact form for better salaries for teachers. The editor of The of the Digest this bit of pathos:

"What shape, madam, was the pocket-

"First, I'm a teacher."—Chicago

One Deficiency

"Is your house equipped with all modern safety devices against burglars running away with your valuables?"
asked the prospective tenant.
"Not quite," admitted the truthful owner. "You see, the cellar has an outside entrance."

Something Missing

A city youngster was paying his first visit to his uncle's farm. Among the animals on the place was a rather small cat. As the boy stood gazing at the little creature, his uncle said:
"Well, what do you think of him, Johnny?"
"Why—why, he's all right," said
Johnny; "but where's his rooster?"—

GREAT BRITAIN WARNS GREECE MILITARY GRIPS DUBLIN

SAYS CROWD AT THE PARK STAMPEDED

DUBLIN, Nov. 22.—Crown forces today warned the Greek Athletic Association that if it did not disband its army of 14,000 men, it would be treated as an enemy. The association, which had been in the city since the outbreak of the Greek revolution, had been in the city since the outbreak of the Greek revolution. BRITAIN USES PRESSURE ON GREEK PREMIER PARIS, Nov. 22.—Great Britain has already taken steps to inform Greece that it is absolutely opposed to the return of Constantine to the Greek throne, says the Petit Parisien. The Greek government does not take any steps to return the territorial advantages given her in the treaty between the allies and Turkey, the newspaper asserts. The Athens correspondent of the journal, after giving details of the confusion in Greece, says that during the demonstrations following the election of King George, many persons, among whom were women and children, were killed.

Giant Eagle Attempts To Carry Away Small Boy

GLENDON, Wyo., Nov. 22.—It took the combined efforts of the Spaulding family today to save 8-year-old Walter Spaulding from being carried away by a giant eagle at their ranch near here. When the large bird attacked Walter in the ranch yard, he grasped it by the neck and screamed for help. John, his 7-year-old brother, came to the rescue, and a third boy ran for help. Mrs. Spaulding beat off the bird with a stick and the eagle attacked her. She was saved when Mr. Spaulding came with a shotgun and dispatched the bird. It had a spread of eight feet. The two boys were severely lacerated by the eagle's claws.

Lack Of Interest Of American Capital In Nation's Insular Possessions Retards Progress

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22.—Inability to interest American capital on a large scale in the nation's insular possessions, particularly the Philippines, has resulted in the great retardation of the great natural resources of the islands according to the annual report of Major General Frank McIntyre, chief of the bureau of insular affairs of the war department, to Secretary Baker. General McIntyre urges American bankers and business men to interest themselves in the trade and development possibilities of the outlying possessions, declaring that "large tracts of the best agricultural lands in the world await development," and that "in a number of fertile provinces the population falls below 20 persons per square mile, while there is an unexploited labor demand in other agricultural provinces having population of 250 per square mile." Action has been taken by the Philippine legislature to provide for the exploration and leasing of lands containing petroleum and other mineral oils and gases, in which connection General McIntyre says that "the existence of oil in widely separated localities in the Philippines has been known since the occupation of the islands, but there has been no serious effort at development. There is no promise that in the near future that it will be developed."

METEOR FALLS IN WEST VIRGINIA; TOWN IN PANIC

HUNTINGTON, W. Va., Nov. 22.—Several persons were knocked down and stunned, windows were broken, an automobile wrecked and other damage occurred by a meteor which fell at Houserville, five miles from Kingwood, in Preston county, last night. The meteor fell during a great electrical storm, striking with such violence that earth tremors were felt over a radius of twelve miles. It buried itself several feet in the earth and at ten o'clock last night workmen were still engaged in examining it. The news of the fall of the meteor reached here by long distance telephone. The message, coming from Richard M. Bates, Jr., Huntington architect, who is in Kingwood on business. Mr. Bates, who visited Houserville after the fall of the meteor, said that while no one was seriously injured, a number were checked by the electric current and that the whole community was thrown into a panic. Many women fainted, he said. The meteor, he said, landed about seventy-five yards from a roadway. An automobile on this roadway was stripped of its top and the windshield was broken.

Train Service In Dublin Is Resumed

DUBLIN, Nov. 22.—All train service in and out of Dublin was resumed this morning after the city had passed a quiet night following Sunday's bloodshed and the ending activities of yesterday. The curfew law was strictly obeyed. The night, however, did not witness any let-up in the work of the military, who were continuing their minute search of the city, presumably for suspects in connection with Sunday's assassinations. Before the curfew hour several of the streets were surrounded by lined-up white barriers and the soldiers examined all persons passing.

VENIZELOS DESPONDENT OVER DEFEAT

PARIS, Nov. 22.—Former Premier Venizelos of Greece is despondent over his defeat at the polls on November 14, and may retire permanently from politics. In any event, he will await definition by the powers of their attitude toward Greece, said Sophocles Venizelos, son of the former premier to Paris correspondents at Nice this morning. "My father is disgusted and is despondent," said the young man. "He is waiting for a time without saying a word. I do not know what his intentions are, but for the present he is too disgusted with everything to desire to enter politics again. So far as he is concerned, Greece can have the fate she deserves. He will wait to know, first of all, what are the views and intention of the allies toward Greece before he decides whether to resume his political work." Young Venizelos declared the principal reason for the defeat was the fact that friends of former King Constantine spent much more money than the Venizelists were capable of. He asserted such methods were repugnant to the former premier, who refused to fight the campaign by other than the fairest means.

Sues In Poetry
For Damages

ARKON, O., November 22.—Louis F. Williams, in a civil suit for $2,000 damages against Charles Miller filed the following petition:

"He tore my clothes
And broke my nose;
And on my face
Struck several blows."

It is believed to be the first "jangle poetry" ever filed in a lawsuit, if not in the United States.

MILITARY CORDON AROUND DUBLIN; CITY APPREHENSIVE

DUBLIN, Nov. 22.—Strong military patrols manned every bridge and road leading out of the city of Dublin last night. All avenues of the city and highways were closed, and even persons holding permits were not allowed to pass the lines drawn through the outskirts of the city. Reports reaching the center of Dublin during the evening indicated that virtually the whole military establishment in this district of Ireland was employed in maintaining this cordon. Late in the evening the strict guard placed around the city made absolute the paralysis of traffic in and out of Dublin, which was begun when orders were issued on Sunday suspending all railway service. In the meantime soldiers were conducting scores of raids throughout the city, reports reaching newspaper offices showing that all classes and types of residences and other premises were being searched. From early in the morning this work went on, and reports came in quick succession of scores of raids, which were attended by more than the usual amount of individual clashes. It seemed certain that many casualties had marked the day's activity. The thoroughness with which the cordon about the city was drawn, and raids conducted led those in close touch with the situation to believe the military authorities were determined to arrest the parties responsible for the murder of fourteen officers on Sunday. Streets in the downtown section of Dublin were thickly populated early in the evening by small knots of citizens, who were discussing the situation and expressing fear that the reign of terror had not ended. As a consequence of the advancement of the curfew hour to ten o'clock, however, the crowds soon dwindled, and a little after nine o'clock there was scarcely a person abroad. An atmosphere of distrust and suspicion was noticeable on every hand yesterday and last night. Travelers on trams, pedestrians in the streets and loungers in hotel lobbies showed reluctance to venture any opinion relative to the possible consequences of Sunday's tragic events. Above all, no one could have any indications as to his personal sympathies. It was universally agreed, however, that the situation was most delicate and the spark which might produce the long feared conflagration was momentarily expected.

MYSTERY SHROUDS MURDER

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 22.—Local authorities today continued their investigation into the death of Henry T. Peirce, eastern manager of the Foster Manufacturing company, whose body lay with the head crushed by blows from an iron wrench was found yesterday in the rear of his office here. They have succeeded in tracing his movements up to 10:30 o'clock Saturday night, but with this exception little progress has been made toward a solution of the mystery. The condition of the body indicated, according to the police, that he was killed late Saturday night or early Sunday. The police are looking for a man and woman, who Peirce is said by a business acquaintance to have picked up in the center of the city Saturday night and driven to his office in his automobile. This man said he left the trio when they entered Peirce's office and that the man and woman were unknown to him. Peirce's automobile was seen standing in front of his office as late as midnight Saturday, but the police have not been able to find anyone who saw it taken away. The car is missing and it is believed the slayer or slayers drove off in it. Several theories are advanced by the officials as the motive for the killing. One of these is robbery. Thieves and other jewelry and cash, which Peirce was known to carry, are missing. Another theory is that he was killed through jealousy and that the robbery was accomplished in order to cover up the real motive. Peirce was 43 years old. He leaves a widow and five children, all boys.

At last! Mars has spoken!

YOUNG HIRAM Jinks. HAD TRIED for weeks. TO TALK to MARS. BY WIRELESS. HE'D POUNDED his key. CALLING "MARS. Hello, Mars." UNTIL HIS right biceps. WAS THE village pride. HE HARDLY dared to sleep. LEST HE miss the call. AND SAY! One evening. HE GOT an answering buzz. "YEP, THIS is Mars." AND HIRAM shook all over. AND STUTTERED back to MORM. "HAVE YOU any word. FOR US on Earth?" QUICK CAME the answer. "YOU CAN tell the world. THEY SATISFY!" Then silence. HIRAM RAN to the corner store. AND SHOUTED in triumph. "A MESSAGE from Mars! YOU CAN tell the world. THEY SATISFY." BUT THE village elders. MERELY SNORTED "Shucks. KNOWN THAT for years." WHILE OUT in the army camp. THE RADIO man. WHO'D BEEN kidding Hiram. THREW AWAY his butt. AND LAUGHED himself to sleep.

B-U-Z-Z-Z. Listen to this one! Chesterfields "satisfy," and yet they're mild. With body enough to "satisfy" even a cigar smoker, Chesterfields are mild enough to suit even the most finicky cigarette smoker. That's some combination!—and this unique blend can't be copied.

JOIN THE RED CROSS NOW; HELP A NOBLE CAUSE

The total number of members in the Red Cross up to Tuesday morning had passed the three thousand mark and the outlook for the next few days is promising to officials.

Weather held down the attendance at the meeting last night but the twenty district leaders that reported had amassed a total of hundreds of dollars. The various clubs and organizations were represented and told of the work being done.

Orla E. Ricker, chairman of the roll call, urged a canvass of the roll districts to pick up memberships that had been overlooked. Many people were not at home at the time of the first canvass can be secured in this manner.

In a manner for the canvassing of the Webster-Gleason plant has been devised and it is expected to produce better results as it is impossible for the girls to visit all the factories.

Foreman of the various departments in the entire plant will see the men working under them personally and a large number of new members are expected by this means.

Those who were unable to attend the meeting last night and make their report are requested to see that their districts are thoroughly covered. Officials of the drive are depending largely upon the house to house canvassers and all canvassers are asked to make sure that every one in their district has been given a chance to subscribe.

The results in this county are not up to expectations to date and with the exception of South Webster, Seelyville, Wheelersburg and Lanesville have been disappointing to officials. Canvassers at South Webster have used up all their supplies and requested more.

The total number of memberships secured last year was in the neighborhood of 2,500.

Fine Show At The Sun

Songs that pucker your lips for the whistling hours after the hearing; comedy that makes you laugh right out loud until your very shoes ache; dances that set your toes a tapping and your shoulders a swaying; and times that are gorgeous and special scenes that are both beautiful and novel and a company of real artists who know how to "put over" their material—these are just a few of the entrancing features of the musical comedy at the Sun theatre for today and tomorrow.

"The Hawaiian Butterfly" is presented by the Mifflin and Meyers Variety Girls company, by far the best organization of its kind that has come to the Sun in many a month. The big time vaudeville features, too, are especially pleasing. Francett Sisters are "Yousies of the air" who mix skill, thrills and grace in fashion irresistible. Morgan and Ray are a man and a muse who dispense laughter and light heartiness in large and generous quantities.

The body of Mrs. May Tomlin, who resided at Brush Creek, six miles west of Manchester, was found near the Brush Creek bridge Monday afternoon at 4:30 by Sheriff Pettit and a gang of searchers, who had spent several hours dragging the creek in an effort to find the woman's body.

There was no mud found on the woman's dress, and it is believed that she jumped off the Brush Creek bridge, which is fully 50 feet high. The creek where she ended her life so tragically, is about 18 feet deep.

After almost chopping off the head of her five-year-old son, Gillin, and seriously injuring her three-year-old daughter Hazel, with an axe, Mrs. Tomlin ran to the bridge over the creek near her home and jumped off it. There was no one around to prevent the half-crazed woman from taking her own life after she believed that she had killed her son and daughter. Word came from Manchester this morning that Hazel was not as badly injured as first believed and would recover.

The body of Mrs. Tomlin and son are now lying side by side in the Wilson morgue in Manchester. Hundreds of citizens of that place this morning crowded the morgue to view the bodies. The woman's effort to destroy her family rather than be separated from her children has thoroughly aroused Manchester and vicinity, where the family is well known and has resided there for many years. Rumors over the fact that her husband from whom she had been separated for several months, was about to make an effort to take her children away from her, through legal channels, is given as the cause of the woman's terrible deed. Mrs. Tomlin left a note yesterday, which read: "Good-bye, I cannot give up my babies." Neighbors claim that for some time Mr. and Mrs. Tomlin had not been able to live happily together and since Mr. Tomlin had gone to the home of relatives, Mrs. Tomlin had been despondent. They claim that she repeatedly remarked that she would take her own life, but she did not intimate that she would attempt to wipe out her family.

Undertaker R. M. Wilson of Manchester, was in charge of a funeral near Brush Creek yesterday morning at 10 o'clock. As he passed the Tomlin home, a small house of three rooms, he saw a woman running down the road apparently headed for Brush Creek. He could not stop to investigate, but upon reaching the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Piley, nearby, he notified them, and they immediately went to the Tomlin home. They found the gruesome discovery and quickly notified officials at Manchester. The boy was found lying on the floor almost behind a tree. The little girl was lying on the bed, her face covered with blood. The mother evidently struck the child one blow and then left her home. The baby was in its bed nearby, uninjured.

Fire Destroys Auto

Fire from an unknown origin completely destroyed the Chevrolet touring car owned by Edward Clise, mechanic, living on Poplar street, East Portsmouth.

The auto, which had been left in the garage, was discovered in flames shortly before nine o'clock last night and before the fire companies which responded to an alarm could reach the scene, the machine was destroyed.

There was no fire of any kind in the garage and Mr. Clise is at a loss to figure how it originated.

GIANTS PURCHASE BRILLIANT INFIELDER

Goldie Rapp.

"Goldie" Rapp, infielder purchased recently by the New York Nationals from St. Paul, is ripe and ready to shine in the big show. That's the dope from the Minnesota city, where Rapp pastured last season after being released by the Cincinnati Reds. He said the Giants paid $15,000 in cool iron men for Rapp and will also turn over two players. Red fans are thinking that Pat Moran pulled a better in letting Rapp go last spring. If Goldie delivers for McGraw Pat'll get an awful spanking.

Plan Two New Health Measures

COLUMBUS, O., November 23.—Two new health measures, designed to insure public water supply against pollution, as a result of the typhoid epidemic now raging at Salem, will be asked of the next state legislature by Dr. A. W. Freeman, state health commissioner.

One would require a bacteriological examination of water twice a week in the smaller towns and daily in the larger cities. The other would prohibit the use of water from open streams and questionable sources, to reinforce the regular city supply in cases of emergency, except by a separate supply line where there would be no danger of contaminating the city water.

Operating under the Hughes act the state health commission has been conducting an extensive examination of wells and other semi-public sources of water supply throughout the state and thereby has warned off much disease, according to Freeman.

Colgate Estate Six Million

NEW YORK, November 23.—The passing bell was rung in England as well as after death. The practice grew out of the belief that devils and evil spirits troubled the dying and lay in wait to tempt the soul when it had left the body. After the performance the passing bell was discontinued, although tolling after a death is still the custom.
